NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 2009

1. NATURE OF BUSINESS AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

Nature of Business – The Littleton Consumer Cooperative Society, Inc. (the Cooperative) was incorporated in New Hampshire in 2006. The Cooperative, located in Littleton, NH, operates a member owned food store, open to its members and the general public.

Summary of Significant Accounting Policies:

The financial statements of the Cooperative are prepared using the accrual basis of accounting. The accounting and reporting policies of the Cooperative conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. In order to facilitate a more complete understanding of the data included in the financial statements, the more significant of these accounting policies are summarized below:

Cash and Cash Equivalents – The Cooperative considers as cash and cash equivalents all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less at the date of purchase and proceeds due from credit and debit card transactions with settlement terms of less than five days.

Concentration of Credit Risk – The Cooperative maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts, which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. Cash is maintained at high-quality financial institutions, and the Cooperative has not experienced any losses in such accounts and believes it is not exposed to any significant risk on cash.

Use of Estimates – The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements. Estimates also affect the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Investments in Other Cooperatives – The Cooperative accounts for its investments in other cooperatives under the cost method of accounting.

Inventory – The Cooperative uses a combination of the retail inventory method ("RIM") and replacement cost method ("RCM") to determine the current cost of its inventory. Under RIM, the current cost of inventories and the gross margins are calculated by applying a cost-to-retail ratio to the current retail value of inventories. Under the RCM, the most current unit purchase cost is used to calculate the current cost of inventories.

Property and Equipment – The cost of property and equipment is depreciated over the estimated useful lives of the related assets using various straight-line and accelerated methods. Expenditures for repairs and maintenance are expensed when incurred and betterments are capitalized. When assets are no longer in service, the related costs and reserves are removed. Property and equipment is recorded at cost less accumulated depreciation. The ranges of estimated useful lives are as follows:

	YEARS
Furniture and equipment	5 – 10
Land improvements	15 – 39
Building	39

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 2009

1. NATURE OF BUSINESS AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Income Taxes – Deferred taxes are provided based on a liability method whereby deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for deductible temporary differences. Temporary differences are the differences between the financial and tax-reporting basis for specific items. Deferred taxes are recorded at the enacted tax rates. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. No allowance was required for December 31, 2009.

Revenue Recognition – Revenue is recognized at the point of sale for retail sales. Customer returns are immaterial. Sales discounts are recorded as a reduction of sales at the time of purchase.

Receivables – The carrying value of accounts receivable approximates fair value due to their short-term nature. Management determines the allowance for doubtful accounts based on historical experience and application of the specific identification method. There was no allowance for doubtful accounts as of December 31, 2009.

Advertising – Advertising costs are charged to operations when incurred. Advertising costs were $26,660 for the year ended December 31, 2009.

Business Reporting Segments – The Cooperative has determined that its operations are within one reportable segment. Accordingly, financial information on industry segments is omitted because, apart from the principal business of operating a retail store, the Cooperative has no other industry segments.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments – The Cooperative's financial instruments consist of cash, short-term trade receivables and payables, accrued expenses and long-term debt. The carrying value of all instruments approximates their fair value.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets – The Cooperative periodically assesses the likelihood of recovering the cost of long-lived assets based on its expectations of future profitability and undiscounted cash flows of the related business operations. These factors, along with management's plans with respect to the operations, are considered in assessing the recoverability of property and equipment.

In addition, Topic 855 requires disclosure consideration of significant subsequent events related to conditions that did not exist as of the balance sheet date but in effect make the financial statements misleading if not disclosed to the user. NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

14. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS (continued):

The Cooperative has reviewed events occurring after December 31, 2009 through March 18, 2010, the date that management accepted the final draft of the financial statements and made them available to be issued. Subsequent to the year ended December 31, 2009, the Cooperative entered into agreements on seven of its outstanding notes to suspend principal payments for a period of six months, beginning March 2010. This reprieve amounts to $75,648, which is included in current liabilities at December 31, 2009. The Cooperative is also in the process of negotiating with another debt holder for a lower payment, but nothing had been finalized as of this report date. The Cooperative has also been informed that one of their loans was improperly amortized by the debt holder, resulting in larger than necessary payments. The final impact on the future required payments had not been determined by the date of this report. Finally, the Cooperative has been granted a forgiveness of a portion of a payable to a related party (see Note 13).

15. RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS:

In June 2009, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Codification Topic 105 (formerly SFAS No. 168), The FASB Accounting Standards Codification and the Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, a replacement of FASB Statement No. 162. Topic 105 supersedes all existing non-SEC accounting and reporting standards and became the source of U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Following Topic 105, the Board will not issue new standards in the form of Statements, FASB Staff Positions or Emerging Issues Task Force Abstracts. Instead, it will issue Accounting Standards Updates. Topic 105 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years ending after September 15, 2009.

The Cooperative adopted the provisions of Accounting Standards Codification Subtopic 740-10 (formerly FASB Interpretation No. 48), Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, effective January 1, 2009. Subtopic 740-10 applies to all tax positions accounted for under FASB Statement No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes. Subtopic 740-10 applies to situations where the uncertainty is to the timing of the deduction, the amount of the deduction or the validity of the deduction. At adoption, the Cooperative was required to adjust their financial statements to reflect only those tax positions that are more likely than not to be sustained as of the adoption date. Positions that meet this criterion should be measured using the largest benefit that is more than 50% likely to be realized. The necessary adjustment should be recorded directly to the beginning balance of retained earnings in the period of adoption and reported as a change in accounting principle. At adoption and at December 31, 2009, the Cooperative did not have any unrecognized tax benefits, nor any accrued interest or penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits.
